SERVICES

Morning Prayer

Opening

Let us return to God who is all forgiveness;
we will wait for the Lord more than those who watch for the dawn.

We seek to tread in the steps of Christ;
in the steps of Christ our Champion and King.

He has shown us the way when strong, when weak;
he is our Guide in everything.

Psalm

Psalm 1; 25; 51:1-17; 78:1-8; 130; 131; or 139:1-18, 23, 24

Forgiveness

We have fallen short of what you desire, O God;
wipe clean our sins and save us.

Save us, O God.

You who saved Noah from the waves of the Flood,

save us, O God.

You who saved your people from an oppressor's hand,

save us, O God.

You who saved Jonah from the deepest abyss,

save us, O God.

or

Good God, you have created humankind to be immortal and an image of your own eternity; yet often we forget the glory of our heritage and wander from the path which leads to goodness. Look with mercy upon our frailties and forgive our shortcomings, that we may be filled with light, and reflect the strength of your love.

There may be a Declaration of forgiveness, music of lament or the singing of words such as 'Lord, have mercy'.

An invaluable resource book for anyone seeking help with prayers, services, sermon ideas and illustrative material for all-age worship. The CD-Rom contains activity sheets and illustrations that can be reproduced to enliven learning and interactive worship.

Revelations of Glory

Prayers for Saints' Days

David Adam

Saints are not set apart as perfect or sinless, for they have the same weaknesses as all humans, but they are who God has called them to be and in being themselves, they reveal God's glory. Saints are people who work in common union with God and he is seen at work in their lives. This book is to introduce you to some of the people who are heroes of the Church and are revelations of God's glory. We share a common union with them, for we have the same Creator and Redeemer and the same Spirit of God: in God we are one with them.

Each celebration of a saint follows the same format: a short introduction to the saint's life, the Scripture readings for the saint's day, which are taken mainly from the Common Worship Lectionary, an opening prayer, intercessions, the peace and a blessing.

Together with its companion volume Icons of Glory, this book will encourage you to explore the common union to which we all belong and to discover God's call to you, which is unique. This is a call to be a fellow worker with God and to reveal his glory in your life.

Let Us Worship the Lord

A plentiful resource for worship leaders

John Cox

This compendium of prayers, reflections, Bible-based monologues, sermon ideas and full services is a valuable resource for those who devise and lead worship. As well as more general material, the focus is on the two great festivals of Christmas and Holy Week/Easter:

The book contains over 300 prayers, with opening prayers, confessions, intercessions and blessings set out for the Christian Year and specific topics. The material is drawn from books already published by our popular author, John Cox and is brought together here to assist those looking for background information, ideas for sermons, prayers and talks as they prepare to lead congregations in their worship. The reflections will both stimulate and encourage them in their own spiritual journey.

The Scandal of Christian Disunion

Why it must stop immediately

Nicholas King

There is nothing new about divisions in the Church, and all of us could tell stories of Christians faced with interdenominational tensions. The fact remains that the Church has, especially today, an absolute duty to proclaim the gospel; but we always need to check that it is indeed the gospel that we are trying to preach. For we are fallible and sinful – and we can get it wrong.

The first chapter of Nicholas King's book considers the scandal of Christian disunion, and in particular at the mystery whereby perfectly good people seem content to live with the scandal. Then he looks at each of the 27 documents that constitute the New Testament and demonstrates that the writers were well aware of the possibility of divisions in the Church and that they had a way of coping with the divisions, by 'keeping their eyes on God and on Jesus'.

The final part of the book considers one particular issue that divides Christians of the Roman Catholic Church from other Christians, namely the role given to Mary the mother of Jesus, and in particular to the two teachings about her Immaculate Conception and her Assumption, and whether the Catholic position represents an unbridgeable gap for Christians from other traditions.

The Teacher

A simple guide to daily life

Nick Fawcett

The Teacher

A simple guide to daily life

Nick Fawcett

Destined surely to become a modern-day spiritual classic, speaking to people of all faiths and none, this is a book you will want to return to again and again. Drawing on ancient wisdom literature and, specifically, the words of the Teacher, Nick Fawcett invites the reader to join him in a search for insight into the ups and downs, joys and sorrows, of daily life.

At once poetic and profound, The Teacher offers guidance on such diverse themes as love, revenge, relationships, loneliness, justice, wealth, and much more. Here is a timely resource for our troubled world, painting a picture of what life could be, should be, and perhaps, just possibly, one day might be.

Forgiveness

Isaw a family divided, brother from brother, mother from daughter, father from son – what had begun as a disagreement having turned to a feud: opinions hardened, positions entrenched. Words had been spoken, insults traded, and none could forgive.

Then I said to the Teacher, 'Speak to me of forgiveness, of making peace.'

And the Teacher answered, 'Friendship prospers where people are willing to admit mistakes; nagging about them, instead, divides even the most steadfast of friends.'

Then I was ashamed, for though I seek to forgive, I fail to do so, and though I strive to let go, I keep hold instead, dredging up the same mistakes, resurrecting the same grievances, raising the same complaints. For it is easier to hold on to resentment, no matter what the price, than to let it go without recompense.

And I saw how a failure to forgive destroys relationships, denying the opportunity to move on; how the one wronged becomes the one who wrongs, the one hurt the one who hurts, the one refusing to forgive the one most in need of forgiving. For bitterness poisons not just others but ourselves most of all.

So I asked the Teacher, 'Show me the secret of forgiveness.'

Brought up in Southend-on-Sea, Essex, Nick Fawcett served as a Baptist minister for 13 years, and as a chaplain with ToCH for 3, before deciding to focus on writing and editing, which he continues with today, despite wrestling with myeloma, an incurable cancer of the blood. He lives in Wellington, Somerset, with his wife, Deborah, and - when they are at home from university - his two children, Samuel and Kate. Delighting in the beauty of the West Country, Nick and Deborah love nothing more than walking stretches of the South West coast path at weekends, and Nick - as well as finding time

What Do You Think?

Poems to stimulate reflection and discussion in the classroom

Compiled and edited by John Cox

A collection of poems covering a wide range of topics, including what we think about ourselves, friends, the environment, bullying and forgiveness. Some of the poems have an explicit religious theme, presented in a way that invites reflection and careful thought. Brief commentaries and discussion questions are provided throughout to initiate discussion.

The poems have been selected especially for use with children in schools. This is an exciting resource of engaging and sometimes amusing poems that will help children to think about important issues.

for online games of chess and Scrabble alongside his many editing commitments - finds constant inspiration for his numerous books in the lanes and footpaths near his house. His aim, increasingly, is to write material free of religious jargon that reaches out to people of all faiths and none.

How to Plan and Lead Your Own Collective Worship

A guide book for children and young people

Patricia Ainge

This book provides a step-by-step guide for children and young people to help them plan and lead their own collective worship. It details the building blocks of collective worship and then explains how children and young people can use them to plan and structure their own act of worship. The author provides a wealth of resources to help children and young people get started, from suggestions for Scripture readings to suit different occasions to ideas about how to explore these readings to find the message for today.

The book is written so that it can be used independently by upper KS2 and lower KS3. While the bulk of the book is written for young people, there are 2 short sections for the adults that support them where, among other things, ideas are given for using the book with younger children, or as a class resource. Although written from a Catholic perspective, the idea of the book is that it could be suitable for all schools, including non-faith schools.

Lord, I've a Few Questions

A lifetime's irrepensible prayers

David Gatward

Don't read this book if you know all the answers, have an awesome and perfect prayer life, and spend each and every day knowing exactly what is God's purpose for you and your life.

However, if you're happier with questions, have the kind of prayer life that occasionally needs putting on life support, and find yourself often wondering what's happening tomorrow, never mind next month or year, then why not read on?

From life as a teenager, through college, then out into the wider world of work, marriage and children, this collection of old and new material, written by David Gatward, author of the bestselling Can We Talk, Lord?, spans the past 25 years of his life. It may not be filled with life-changing insights and earthshattering wisdom, but it is real. And that, when it comes to it, is what God is actually really interested in: wherever you are, and whatever it is that you're doing, your creator wants you to share with him what's on your mind. So, what's stopping you?

Jesus' Women

Thank God for them!

Joy Tetley

In all four Gospel accounts of the life and ministry of Jesus, women feature strongly. Some are named, many are not, but each has her own part to play in opening up the truth of God.

Each of these women points us to Jesus, who is God with us. In this book, Joy Tetley offers reflections on each one of them, convinced that they still have much to say, even in this day and age, and to both men and women.

The reflections can be used by individuals but they will also fit well into a group scenario, discussing responses and reactions together.

Pictures of the Early Church

Welcome to the New Testament
Nicholas King

This book is an invitation to read the 27 documents that make up the library we call 'the New Testament'. They come in different shapes and sizes; there are the five (yes, five) narratives that we call 'gospels'. And there are other documents that we call 'letters', though not many of them are the kind of thing you might receive in today's post.

All of them have something to do with, indeed each of them sheds a different light on, the remarkable person whom we call Jesus of Nazareth, who was put to death because the political authorities could not cope with him, and whom God raised from that appalling death. This book will tell you how the New Testament works, and how it could change your life.

Wide as the Oceans High as the Heavens

Prayers to our boundless God
Annie Heppenstall

Here is a compilation of prayers from five of Annie Heppenstall's previous books. Annie says, 'Each one of my books celebrates the awe of this beautiful world we live in, but also acknowledges that life can be very challenging as we struggle with personal circumstances and questions of faith.'

In this book, you will find prayers

- celebrating the wonder of the natural world
- using inclusive and feminine imagery for God
- reinterpreting traditional Christian prayers, in inclusive language
- of time and season
- in the Celtic tradition
- for tree planting, place blessing and pet funerals
- to honour women's stages of life from menarche to menopause
- seeking a way through loss, illness and anxiety
- seeking peace in difficult relationships, including within church communities
- expressing wonder at divine love and much more!

Harmony in Worship

Building supportive relationships between clergy, musicians and congregations
Stephen Mitchell and Roger Green

At its very best music can enhance not only the singing but the whole experience of worship – from joyous praise to quiet contemplation. When all is in harmony, all is well, but relationships play an important part and sometimes are 'off key'. Not only does the book offer suggestions and questions to stimulate those responsible for worship but it also suggests ways to help ensure ministers, organists and worship leaders all sing from the same song sheet. Contents include chapters on hymns, choirs, organists, the changing face of music in church and instruments.

Abiding Grace

Prayers for Later in Life
Rupert Bristow

The later years of life are as filled with blessings and challenges as those which come before. In Abiding Grace, Rupert Bristow provides a moving and heartfelt storehouse of prayers that enable the reader to reflect and meditate on them.

Beginning as it should with celebration, Abiding Grace reminds us that there is much indeed to rejoice in, be that the simple joys of laughter; retirement, and even keeping fit! Rupert then gently guides the reader through the anxieties and worries that are an inescapable part of growing old. Regrets and mistakes are brought before God and through his grace we are released from our past.

From birthdays and anniversaries, friends, family and wisdom, through to the time when we all face death, Abiding Grace is a rich and much needed aid for anyone turning to prayer in later life. Indeed, as Rupert writes, it is through God's saving grace and an awareness of his presence in our lives, 'that we can all seek to make the seamless transition from life to death without fear or regret, but in confidence and trust.'

Experiencing God in Unexpected Places

A journey of blessing based on the Beatitudes
Patrick Coghlan

Aimed at a variety of readerships, Experiencing God in Unexpected Places is for those who want to know more about the meaning and significance of the Beatitudes, and to gain a greater understanding of the nature of joy and blessing. The book will also help people who are coming to terms with difficult times, and all those who struggle to understand how we can experience God, his joy and blessing, even in the more negative situations in life – sometimes more so.

blessing, and to experience the Triune God (God the Father, Jesus the Son and the Holy Spirit) in new and significant ways eternally. Also, how we can appreciate more fully all the joy and blessings that God showers upon us on a daily basis; though not everyone attributes them to God.

Each Beatitude is divided into two halves, which are looked at in alternate chapters. The first half is the challenge of the Beatitude, and the second half is the blessing of the Beatitude. The Appendix at the end of the resource invites and assists the reader to go on a physical journey of prayer, based on the Beatitudes.

Credible Witnesses

What people thought of Jesus as revealed in John's Gospel
John Parr

John's Gospel includes a broad spectrum of witnesses to Jesus, whose wide-ranging responses and stories are an attempt to persuade audiences of their points of view on Jesus, which range from positive to negative. The evangelist wants his readers to become more confident in their faith, hence his desire to tell a credible story (or series of stories) about Jesus.

Credible Witnesses follows John's lead by allowing many of his characters to speak about Jesus by telling their stories. This involves imagination and even conjecture at times. In each of the chapters of this book, a character's testimony is illuminated with some background information, before going on to show how John uses the testimony as part of the witness of his Gospel as a whole. Each chapter ends with some reflections that help to draw John's Gospel into the present.

Music

Ooffy Socks

and other Unusual Hymns for Children

included

John Campbell has written a brand-new collection of 80 innovative songs for children and young people, set to well-known and attractive, easily accessible tunes.

He has chosen children-friendly, often lively tunes, lowered to make them easily singable, so that the hymns can be sung immediately, with the focus on the words, not concentrating on learning a new tune. Many of these songs contain word play or even newly-invented words.

There are a few tunes not usually found in a hymn book and these have all been recorded with their full lyrics on the accompanying CD.

John Campbell isn't afraid to tackle big, difficult issues but it's certainly not all serious. The Bible is woven into almost all the songs, in ways that connect with life for young people today. Here is a collection that is sure to challenge, encourage, engage and intrigue.

A Simple Communion

included

Tuneful, easy-to-sing, lovely harmonies and music that reflect the texts - that's how we describe this setting. The accompaniment may be played either by the music group or on the organ.

All four sections, the Lord, have mercy, Glory to God, Holy, holy, holy Lord and Lamb of God are recorded on the CD, which may be used to learn the music or as a backing track in church.

We think your choir and congregation will love A Simple Communion.

The tune the lyrics are sung to is in italics

A crown of piercing thorns	Lord Jesus, think on me	Lord, change our world	Now is the hour
All nations of the world	Ye holy angels bright	Lord, give us vision	I know that my Redeemer lives
An urgent voice is calling	The Church's one foundation	Lord, you amaze us	Salut d'amour
And can we hope	Jerusalem	Now as the evening shadows fall	Before the ending of the day
Be the God of all my Sundays	Ode to joy	Now is the time	Now is the hour
Christ, here we are!	Ride on, ride on in majesty	O Christ, remember them	New every morning is the love
(God of The Second Chance)	Ode to joy	O Father, on your love we call	Eternal Father, strong to save
Come, with newly-written anthems	God rest you merry, gentlemen	O God of hope	Dear Lord and Father of mankind
Cry 'Freedom!'	All you who seek a comfort sure	O God of thoughts and feelings	The Church's one foundation
For beauty which delights our eyes	Beneath the cross of Jesus	O holy, heavenly kingdom	I'll sing a hymn to Mary
For those who strive for justice	New every morning is the love	O Lord, how long	Sweet Saviour, bless us ere we go
Forgive us when our deeds ignore	The Church's one foundation	O West Bank town of Bethlehem	O little town of Bethlehem
From opposite directions	Of the Father's love begotten	Our Father (Caribbean)	Our Father
From the heart of God the Father	Lord, enthroned in heavenly splendour	People, look east	People, look east
God beyond earth's finest treasures	Jesu, lover of my soul	Sing 'Hey!' for the God who is eternally new	'Tis a gift to be simple
God has promised many things	Sing praise to God	(God's surprise)	Now, my tongue, the mystery telling
God is our strength from days of old	who reigns above	Sing, my tongue, the glorious struggle	What a friend we have in Jesus
God of present, God of past	Trump! Trump! Trump!	Sing the gospel of salvation	Sound out his praises
God of the nations	O bread of heaven	Sound out his praises	Such a host as none can number
Hallelujah (Hallelujah Chorus)	Hallelujah Chorus	Such a host as none can number	Danny boy
How did you feel, Lord Jesus	O sacred head	Teach me, dear Lord	Now, my tongue, the mystery telling
In glad and sad remembrance	O God, beyond all praising	Tell, my tongue, the awesome mystery	Stand up, stand up for Jesus
In the night, the sound of crying	Father, hear the prayer we offer	The heavens proclaim God's glory	The Lord's my shepherd
In the peace of a garden	Home, sweet home	The Lord created family	Down by the Salley Gardens
In vast, ornate cathedrals	Hail to the Lord's anointed	The Lord reveals his glory	Now thank we all our God
Is the church a building?	At the name of Jesus	The promised time arrives	Tell out, my soul
Jesus, in your life we see you	Love divine, all loves excelling	We have a vision	When a knight won his spurs
Jesus meets us at the margins	What a friend we have in Jesus	What a night to remember	Eternal Father, strong to save
Let love be our glory	Land of my fathers	When we were little, hurt and lost	The Church's one foundation
Let us all, with grateful minds	Let us, with a gladsome mind	(Mothers of the world)	You've called us as your Church, Lord
Light of her life	Golden slumbers	Where love is met with hatred
Long ago, you taught your people	Glorious things of thee are spoken	You've called us as your Church, Lord
Lord, at a time when our tables are laden	Brightest and best of the suns of the morning

B-b-b Bless this hard city
Be the hands of Jesus
Breathe in me, Lord
Come, rest in the love of Jesus
Dance on injustice
Don't be afraid
Fearful, uncertain
Feast your mind on what is pure
For I can do all things
God of life, we come in worship

God of present, God of past
Hallelu, hallelu, hallelujah
Hallelujah
Happy to share
He broke the rules
Hold tight
Humble yourselves
I lift my eyes to the hills
I live, dependent on Jesus
Justice like a river
Let love be our glory
Let the world be changed
Light of her life

Lord Jesus, plant a seed of faith
Lord, today your voice is calling
Lord, you amaze us
Lord, you have blessed me
Mother of Christ, called from above
No gift so wonderful
Now, come to the water
O Lord, you've searched me

One of us, flesh and blood
Our Father (Caribbean)
Our Father in heaven
Room prepared;
disciples meet
Saviour, precious Saviour
Set the sail on your boat
Sound out his praises
Teach us how to walk
The day will come,
that glorious day
The gracious invitation
This heavenly love

New Seasonal Hymns for Lent, Holy Week, Easter and Pentecost

Here is a wonderful new collection of 39 hymns by fine writers that will stir and challenge congregations during this special season of the Church Year: Most of the hymns included have well-known, congregation-friendly tunes, lowered to make them easily singable. A few tunes have been used that are less familiar and these have all been recorded with full vocals on the accompanying CD.

A call that ignores the plans you've carefully laid
A crown of piercing thorns
A donkey brought you into sight
At last! The city comes in sight
Bearing all their fears and tensions
Can a man be kind and caring
Christ, here we are!
Come and welcome this King on a donkey
Every land in all creation
Fear, failure and dismay
From opposite directions
From the heights of glory
Good Joseph was a man

Hallelujah
How did you feel, Lord Jesus
In the cross we find a sign of love
In the peace of a garden
Mary still thought that her Jesus was dead
Now is the time
Pentecost Spirit, unsettling us all
Riding gently on a donkey
Room prepared; disciples meet
Sad, confused and shaken
Sing, my tongue, the glorious struggle
Spirit fiery, Spirit free
Spirit of Pentecost
Spirit, speaking every language
Sunday, Jesus rode into the town

The feast begun in shadow
The gracious invitation
The Lord created family
The Spirit comes to bring us freedom
The Spirit of God
Together we proclaim
Two sad friends, side by side
Walking to Jerusalem
We celebrate this special birth
What a night to remember
When we were little, hurt and lost

No Body but Yours

Paul Cox

Christ has no body now, but yours.
No hands, no feet on earth, but yours.
Yours are the eyes through which he looks with compassion on this world.

St Teresa of Avila

As Christians, we are all challenged by Jesus' final commission to his disciples, to go and make disciples of all nations. It has clearly not yet been accomplished and this is the springboard for Paul Cox's thought-provoking course of Lent reflections in No Body but Yours.

Through six sessions, each of which can be followed either as a personal reflection for Lent, or as a group, the sentiments expressed in the prayer by St Teresa of Avila are examined in detail.

No Body but Yours is an essential aid for Lent, encouraging us to reflect not just upon how we live our faith, but how this faith is proclaimed and perhaps more importantly, how we can be Christ to and for others.

Calling on us all to take more seriously, and with greater personal engagement, the task Jesus has set us, Paul Cox encourages us to examine how we can be more Christlike, both in our own lives and in relation to others. It is a wonderful and daunting challenge, and one which, by our baptism into a life with Jesus, we agree to take up.

Worship for Lent and Easter

Annie Heppenstall

'There is a city with a river of life, a radiant place, a place where God resides, a city of peace, where all can live in harmony, where all, from all directions, can come and live in peace.'

Annie Heppenstall – a professed Franciscan tertiary drawn to expressions of Earth Spirituality and of the Feminine Divine, and the bestselling author of The Book of Uncommon Prayer – provides in Worship for Lent and Easter a truly rich and remarkable weekly liturgy, the underlying theme throughout being that of place and inclusivity.

Beginning with Ash Wednesday's location in the wilderness of Christ's temptation, then moving through the desert and onto village, city, family home, temple, execution site, and finally garden, Annie's biblically rich, comprehensive and creative new liturgy includes Celtic Christian options throughout, reflective and informative introductions for worship leaders, and provision for children.

Written with a deep respect of tradition, yet also with a vivid awareness of contemporary concerns, Worship for Lent and Easter will engage all who yearn for fresh inspiration, energy and insight into this most holy of Christian seasons.

Waymarkers

John Saxbee

Former Bishop of Lincoln, John Saxbee underlines the value of Mark's Gospel as a companion and guide on our Christian journey, with its wise teaching and Jesus' inspirational example.

Waymarkers helps the reader to take this journey, either individually or as part of a group, with each stage offering a closer look at an extract from Mark's Gospel, complete with suggestions for personal reflection or group discussion, audio-visual illustrations and prayer.

The seven stages are:

- Travelling light – but not alone
- Stormy weather
- Brief encounters
- Food for the journey – food for thought
- Followers of the way
- Cross country – Gethsemane to Golgotha
- Journey's end?

Staying Close

Russell Herbert

Christians believe that we can have a personal relationship with God. What might that mean in practical terms? How might we talk meaningfully of intimacy with the Divine without undermining the conviction that God is also deeply mysterious?

This study course tries to look beyond what can too easily become clichés, and explores how we might grow closer to God in and through various aspects of our ordinary daily experience. Each session includes reflection on a Bible passage, discussion questions, stories, illustrations, activities, prayers and suggestions for action.

Intended for group use, but also useful for individuals, the course has been written for Lent, although is suitable for any time of year.

The Desert and the City

Ray Simpson

Ray Simpson's six-week Lent group study offers us the opportunity to walk with Christ through his desert – not just the wilderness of Judea, but also the city of Jerusalem, where he was tried and tested. By walking with him we shall confront our own weaknesses and strengths, as well as his.

- Week 1: The desert of testing
- Week 2: The way of meekness
- Week 3: The city of sadness
- Week 4: The place of anger
- Week 5: The house of hospitality
- Week 6: The garden of prayer and the hill of pain

Spot the Difference

Nick Fawcett

What difference does being a Christian make to your life and what difference should it make?

In this group study course, prolific author Nick Fawcett considers five ways in which Christian commitment should manifest itself:

- In a quality of love
- Allegiance to Christ and a spontaneity of witness
- A disposition of joy
- A generosity of spirit and a vibrant inner faith.

Prayers, activities, Bible readings and discussion points are included in each session.

Thirsting for God

Nicholas King

Widely-acclaimed author, Nicholas King, explores the theme of thirst in seven studies, comprising:

- Identifying the thirst correctly
- Thirsting for home
- Thirsting for direction
- Thirsting for holiness
- Thirsting to serve
- Thirsting across boundaries
- Thirsting for life and love

An excellent course for groups or individuals alike, this book will inspire and challenge readers to recognise and engage with their own thirst and to deepen their relationship with God who alone can truly quench it.

Decisions, Decisions

Nick Fawcett

Exploring different aspects of life's decisions through Bible passages and personal experiences, the five weekly sessions in this study course include prayers, activities, discussion questions, meditations, suggestions for further reading and ideas for action.

Intended for small groups, but also useful for individuals, the sessions cover:

- A time to decide
- Complex decisions
- Who decides?
- Flawed decisions
- Living with decisions

Fit for Purpose

Ed Hone

Ed Hone's hugely successful Fit for Purpose is about becoming the kind of people God created us to be, attaining the fullness of life which Jesus came to bring.

In this Lenten resource for individuals or groups, Ed Hone helps you to reflect on your faith and the part it plays in your life. Each week looks at a different aspect of spiritual health: a healthy spiritual diet, loving and living, letting go of what's weighing you down, living a grateful life, encouraging each other, and being a people of praise.

The course includes readings, prayers, reflections and discussion topics.

The Appendix offers suggestions for praying the Scriptures and a light-hearted quiz to assess your spiritual fitness.

Beginnings and Endings

Nick Fawcett

This group study course by the ever-popular Nick Fawcett looks at the idea of moving from the old self to the new and asks what aspects of our life need to be ended and what new characteristics should put in their place. Each of the six sessions begins with the words of a well-known hymn which introduce the theme to be discussed. This is further explored through a variety of prayers, intercessions and meditations.

The sessions comprise:

- Off with the old ...
- ... on with the new
- Giving it up
- Taking it on
- Over and done with
- It's only just begun

The Great 'I Am'

David Adam

Through the seven 'I Am' statements of Jesus from John's Gospel, popular author David Adam encourages us to find God in the present tense. Too often the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are spoken of in the past tense. This group course will help us to find the loving God who is present and with us now.

The sessions cover:

- I am the bread of life
- I am the light of the world
- I am the gate for the sheep
- I am the good shepherd
- I am the way, and the truth, and the life
- I am the true vine
- I am the resurrection and the life

A Chequered Legacy

Nick Fawcett

A Chequered Legacy is a two-book study course in which popular author Nick Fawcett explores the 'good, the bad and the ugly' of the Church. In the Lent book, The Bad and the Ugly, Nick Fawcett looks at faults of the Church; faults that call us to reflect, confess, repent and work as best we can for a better, more enlightened future.

Nick tackles the following crucial issues:

- I'm right; you're wrong: the blight of religious intolerance
- Practising what we preach: The blight of hypocrisy
- A woman's place? The blight of sexism
- Straight talking: The blight of homophobia
- Set in stone? The blight of fundamentalism

By His Wounds

Tony Castle

Life is full of opportunities and Lent is a season of great opportunity. This Lenten study course offers just that: an opportunity to reappraise the meaning of the sacrifice of Calvary. Over the five weeks of Lent, Tony Castle examines the symbols of the cross and crucifix, the concepts of love, of time and of justice, through narrative, scripture, prayer and discussion.

The sessions are:

- Sign of love
- Wounds of love
- Love is the way
- Now is the kingdom
- The healing wounds of love

Knowing and Growing

David Adam

Lent is a time for change; a time for cutting back, pruning and growing in strength, so that we can lead more fruitful lives. This book is for those who want to explore the way to abundant life, who seek to know Christ and the power of his resurrection. In this eight-week group study course, David Adam shares with us a method which follows the Church's ancient tradition of prayer and reading Scripture called 'Lectio Divina', or 'Holy Reading'.

The sessions comprise:

- Ash Wednesday: Don't give up!
- Fruit growing
- Where do weeds come from?
- The dangers of jerry-builders
- Use it or lose it
- At home
- Scorned and rejected
- Easter Day: Love is come again

Passing the Test David Adam

Passing The Test is based on the Church's ancient tradition of prayer and reading Scripture called 'Lectio Divina' or 'Holy Reading'. David Adam, author of many inspiring books on prayer and spirituality, presents here a six-session course which helps us to reach our full potential and move towards being the people God calls us to be. Designed for group study, the book is equally suitable for individual use. The CD, available separately, contains David's spoken words from the book together with gentle music.

The sessions comprise:

- Temptation and divided loyalties
- The wilderness and doubt
- The bread of life
- The dangers of holy places
- Everyone has a price
- The powers of good and evil

Lent and Easter Personal Study

Tasting Life

Chris Morley

Christians have often found that practising the physical discipline of limiting what and when they eat also deepens their spiritual awareness of God. This book is designed to sensitise readers in a similar way, helping them to make God a daily reality and to enable a closer relationship with their deeper selves. Each day's thought begins with an often light-hearted look at an aspect of human behaviour or something extraordinary from the natural world. This is used to encourage inward reflection on a facet of our own experience, in the light of God's involvement in our lives.

Colourful Lent

Sheila Merryweather

At the heart of Colourful Lent is the concept that colour is often more helpful than words. This unique approach to Lent will be welcomed by those who struggle to pray using only words, or those who seek to add a whole new dimension to their prayer life.

A New Light Shining

Nick Fawcett

In these 16 imaginative and moving reflective meditations and prayers, bestselling author Nick Fawcett explores some of the key moments in the life and ministry of Jesus as seen through the eyes of those who were present. Intended as a tool for personal devotion and to stimulate reflection, we are encouraged to look at the challenges Jesus faced and the challenge he brought. A personal book for Lent, Holy Week and Easter; and ideal for dipping into.

Who Do You Say That I Am?

Annie Heppenstall

Annie Heppenstall offers here an insightful and enriching daily journey through Lent, using Mark's Gospel as a guide book, with reflections, prayer and the opportunity for biblical exploration.

Exploring Lent as never before, Annie has tried to focus on the less obvious things, the little details, the 'behind-the-scenes people' and the way the land itself impacts on the Gospel story, to present a fresh way of looking at and appreciating the big picture of Jesus' self-giving love. In particular, she has looked for the significance of the natural world and of the women who are very much present in the Gospel narratives, but whose voices and names are less often heard.

Hearts on Fire

David Adam

These meditations celebrate the joy of meeting up with Jesus, of knowing the risen Lord. They rejoice that Jesus is alive and present with us now.

There is a meditation for each day from Ash Wednesday to the Saturday after Easter. Each meditation has a passage of Scripture, where the life-giving powers of God are seen to be at work. The aim is to help us spend time with the risen Lord.

To explore the Scripture readings, David Adam uses the ancient tradition of Lectio Divina, Holy Reading. The purpose of these meditations is not study, though information is provided, but to be still in the presence of God and rejoice in his saving power.

A Prayer a Day from Lent to Easter

1501134
40 pages
£4.99

The six weeks of Lent are a time of preparing; a time when we seek to understand the fullness of Christ's offering on the cross and rejoice in the resurrection. Lent is a time to improve our prayer life and to make sure we spend some time each day with our God.

David Adam, author of many inspiring books on prayer and spirituality, presents here daily prayers that are a spur to help us enter into stillness with our God of love. The weekly themes are: dedication, love, guidance, the help of God, the power of God.

Praying the Passion

Ken Taylor

1500077
112 pages
£12.99

The perfect daily companion for the Lenten season, this little book is a comprehensive narrative of the Passion using details and aspects of all four accounts.

Mark's account is used as a base, and details unique to the other three Gospels are interwoven to produce a 'composite Passion.' This larger, fuller account of the Passion is used as a springboard for meditation and prayer. For each day of Lent, there is one reading from the Passion on the left-hand page and one meditation on the right-hand page.

The book contains three appendices: one of explanatory notes; one that describes a Passover Seder; and one with a suggested use of selections from the material within the congregation during Holy Week.

Daily Lent Reflections

Nick Fawcett

1500665
168 pages
£9.99

To deepen our devotional life we need a focus for our thoughts, spiritual food to nurture our faith and discipleship. Daily Lent Reflections makes more accessible the spiritual sustenance already offered by Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount.

For each of the 40 days of Lent, there are readings, reflections, prayers and points to ponder on themes such as forgiving others, doing that little bit extra in God's service, choosing the way of the kingdom instead of the often-enticing 'way of the world', seeking God's will rather than our own, valuing and respecting others.

Let Deserts Bloom

Martin Leckebusch

1501301
288 pages
£12.99

Here, for the period from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday, is a selection of guided daily Bible readings drawn from both Old and New Testaments. The material is arranged to explore some of the key themes of Lent, with a week looking at each of desert, journey, conflict, discipline, fruitfulness and – for Holy Week – suffering; especially the sufferings of Christ.

In addition to comments which set each passage in context and apply its message for today, there are prayers and suggestions for worship, reflection and further study on the day's theme.

Lent with St Mark

Richard Garrard

120 pages
£10.99

A collection of readings and prayers for every day of Lent to help you pray with interest and imagination, to follow the way of Jesus more closely, and to celebrate his victory over sin and death in his Easter triumph.

The book stimulates thought and prayer, offering new insights, new angles of vision and new ways of focusing on God.

The readings offer a basis for prayer, pointers for further investigation and starting-points for discussion.

Reflective Services for Lent

Ray Simpson

How can you do justice to an approaching church season, such as Lent, when the cupboard seems bare and work pressures are high?

As a parish priest, free church minister and principal liturgist for the Community of Aidan and Hilda, Ray Simpson understands this dilemma well.

His 14 reflective services provide a rich and relevant resource, with practical tools. There are complete services from Ash Wednesday to Easter which include meditations, Scripture readings, suggestions for hymns and music to listen to, dialogues and creative activities.

This book will be a breath of fresh air to many a worship leader and will hopefully bring a whiff of heaven.

Reflective Services for Lent, Holy Week and Easter

Nick Fawcett

Fourteen complete service outlines for innovative and reflective worship.

The services comprise:

- Suggested visual material and music
- Introduction
- Hymns
- Prayers
- Meditations

Opening out familiar passages of Scripture to look beyond the events at the people who shaped them, bestselling author Nick Fawcett builds up a reflective atmosphere through the music, images and meditations.

Christ, Our Peace

Stuart Thomas

These reflective services are all fairly short and mostly participative, one for each of the four Sundays in Lent, for Passion Sunday and for Palm Sunday. There is space for silence and quiet reflection, and suggestions for hymns that reflect the quieter, more thoughtful tone of these services. Each service can stand on its own but, equally, the individual elements can be extracted and used in other contexts as appropriate.

Rejoicing in Newness of Life

David Adam

Lent is a time when the days are lengthening and the sun is strengthening. The services in this book reflect this increasing light, with a short Litany on Ash Wednesday and throughout Lent, which becomes a candle lighting on Easter Day to Pentecost, symbolising that without Christ we would remain in the dark. The services are designed to enable both young and old to commit their lives to God and rejoice in this great season.

The Way of the Cross

David Adam

Following the traditional pattern of fourteen stations, David Adam combines beautiful prayers with vivid illustrations. This book may be followed at any time of year, but is traditionally used as an act of devotion on Fridays in Lent and on Good Friday.

Light in the Darkness Nick Fawcett

Over seventy wonderfully prayerful meditations concerning Holy Week, each linked to a reading of Scripture and ending with a short prayer. Nick Fawcett cleverly imagines the thoughts, feelings and words of different Bible characters caught up in the events of this momentous time and presents each meditation through their eyes. The result is a fresh and moving telling of the awesome suffering and sacrifice of our Lord. Included are handy indexes of Key Themes, Principal Characters, and Principal Bible Passages.

Celebrating the Seder Nick Fawcett

A comprehensive resource for Christians to learn from the Passover tradition, fully respecting what it means within Judaism but building on it in terms of our own tradition.

Beginning with a seder that follows the customary pattern of Passover, the second seder goes on to develop certain aspects of the light of Christ, concluding with a celebration of the Eucharist. The remaining seders each pick up one of the four key teaching strands integral to the Passover; using them to enlarge upon the meaning of the gospel and the relationship between the two.

Nick Fawcett provides extensive background information, a guide to Hebrew terms, recipes, useful websites, practical advice and guidance at every stage.

The Way of the Cross

Denis O'Gorman and Barry Hart

The Way of the Cross is a musical setting of the traditional devotion commemorating the Passion of Christ by depicting his journey as he carries his cross to his crucifixion. This contemplative and moving work may be performed in a number of ways and could be used by any denomination or group. Traditionally sung whilst moving around a set of stations, The Way of the Cross could also form the basis of a dramatic presentation in schools or churches where the participants mime the unfolding events. Others will find it beneficial for personal prayerful meditation, using the CD included.

The Week That Changed the World

John Cox

Former Archdeacon of Sudbury, John Cox provides a valuable resource for those leading worship and preaching through Holy Week and Easter.

Each day has an introduction based on the Gospel accounts, drawing out the different and rich perspectives of the four Evangelists. A reflection is then offered for sermon material and a full service is provided.

Each of the Three Hours of Good Friday has a different approach – a dramatic reading of the Gospel account from St Matthew, meditations on the Passion with St Mark and a service based on readings from both the Old and New Testaments.

As well as an Easter vigil and a service of Resurrection for Easter Day, there are short services for Easter Light and the Easter Garden.

From the Stable to the Cross

Val Hawthorne

Christmas is a beautiful story, familiar and loved. But Christmas is only the beginning – the start of a journey that leads all the way to Easter and beyond. This service takes people on that journey, as seen through the eyes of the Gospel writer Luke, using drama, Bible readings and songs which are contained on the accompanying CD.

Appropriate for use at any time from Christmas to Easter; it is an occasion for praise, worship and outreach, telling the familiar story of Christmas and the not-so-familiar story of 'what happened next'.

- As Mary heard the angel
- My soul will praise the Lord
- The cry of a baby
- The shadow of a cross
- From the stable to the cross
- We'll sing the Gospel story

Included are:

- Catching the mood of Lent
- A Shrove Tuesday party
- Daily prayers for Lent
- Lenten eating . . . and Lenten fasting
- An all-age Lent journey: 'Who am I?'
- All-age ideas for the Sundays in Lent
- All-age ideas for Holy Week
- 'Open church' days in Lent
- Kite-making
- Holy walking
- Growing in holiness together
- Making a prayer trail
- A Passover celebration
- Telling the Good Friday story

Lent People and Places

Nick Harding

We are all aware of what Jesus went through on his way to the cross, but what about the characters and places that were central to the story? The suggested readings, ideas, games and prayers will help families, schools and churches to reflect on fifteen of the people and places involved in that inevitable journey.

John Cox

Since ordination, nearly 40 years ago, John has been a parish priest; Senior Selection Secretary at Church House, Westminster; Director of Ordinands, and Canon at Southwark Cathedral; an Archdeacon and a Diocesan Director of Education. In retirement John has written many bestselling books for Kevin Mayhew. He chairs the governors of a primary academy and in spare moments enjoys golf and travel.

Val Hawthorne

Val Hawthorne, musician, author, retired teacher (carer, mother, grandma!) began writing for children she knew and it all grew from there. Musicals, stories and songs, material for assemblies and for all-age worship, all written with a lightness of touch and a clear Christian message. She is now seeking to pass on her wide experience in churches to help leaders and children's workers.

Lent and Easter CDs

Disc 1 – Lent

Be still, for the presence of the Lord
Be thou my guardian and my guide
Dear Lord and Father of mankind
Father, hear the prayer we offer
Forgive our sins as we forgive
Forty days and forty nights
He's the Saviour of my soul
I give you love
I need thee every hour
Inspired by love and anger
Jesus, grant me this, I pray
Just as I am, without one plea
Lift up your voice

Disc 2 – Holy Week

Ah, holy Jesus, how hast thou offended
All glory, laud and honour
All hail the lamb
All you who seek a comfort sure
A man there lived in Galilee
An upper room did our Lord prepare
At the cross she keeps her station
Beneath the cross of Jesus
Bread of the world in mercy broken
Come, wounded healer
For God so loved the world
Here is love
Hosanna, Hosanna

Disc 3 – Easter

A brighter dawn is breaking
Alleluia, alleluia, give thanks to the risen Lord
Alleluia, sing to Jesus
Awake, awake fling off the night
Christ the Lord is risen today
Come ye faithful, raise the strain
Finished the strife
From the very depths of darkness
Good Christians all, rejoice and sing
Heaven is open wide
He is Lord
I danced in the morning
I know that my Redeemer lives

Lord Jesus, think on me
Lord of our life, and God of our salvation
Lord, teach us how to pray aright
Lord, we turn to you for mercy
Oft in danger, oft in woe
Praise to the holiest
Put thou thy trust in God
Rock of ages
Seek ye first
Take up thy cross, the Saviour said
When God almighty came to earth
Will your anchor hold

In the Cross of Christ I glory
It is a thing most wonderful
Jesus shall reign
Man of sorrows
O dearest Lord, thy sacred head
On a hill far away
Rejoice, the Lord is King
See the holy table
Sing my tongue the glorious battle
There is a Redeemer
Were you there?
When I survey the wondrous cross

Jesus Christ is risen today
Jesus is Lord!
Jesus lives! Thy terrors now
Low in the grave he lay
Now the green blade riseth
The day of resurrection
The Lord is risen indeed
Thine be the glory
This is the day the Lord has made
To God be the glory
We have a King who rides a donkey
Ye choirs of new Jerusalem

Sharing

Holy Thursday is the last day of Lent. It is the day on which Jesus shared a meal with his disciples and said farewell to them. The meal is called the Last Supper. He broke and ate bread with them, and drank wine. He asked his disciples to remember him from that day forward every time they ate together.

Footsteps to Glory

Peter Jackson

Lent and Holy Week are important times of reflection. A well-acted and well-produced piece of drama can make a real difference in helping us all understand with greater depth the events that we focus on at this time.

Bible-based, and drawing on the key messages from this key period in the Christian calendar; these dramas can be performed as stand-alone pieces to support a talk or sermon, used as part of a Lent series, or perhaps as a block of six or seven as a Good Friday presentation.

Sermon Outlines and All-Age Talks

Susan Sayers

Since the day it was published, Susan Sayers' all-age programme for Common Worship has proved invaluable to people who are responsible for leading worship. Susan's biblical and spiritual insights retain the value they have always had and her ideas for sermons for adults and for talks for younger members of the congregation continue to encourage and inspire. Those reflections and ideas are gathered together here in one convenient volume. The content is based on the readings for each Sunday of the three-year cycle as set out in the Common Worship Lectionary.

The presentation of the Book

The celebrant presents the children's liturgy leader or a child with their book of the Sunday Gospels.

A short formula may accompany the giving of the book.

For example, the celebrant may say to the group:

'Receive the Book of God's Word.'

Or to the leader:

'Receive this book of readings and proclaim God's Word faithfully to the children we entrust to you.'

Or to the children:

'Children, we now send you to celebrate God's Word. Listen carefully and learn of the great things God does for us.'

Or:

'Children, we now send you to celebrate the good news of God's love for us.'

Formulae can be written according to the seasons of the year of the Lord, e.g. Advent. During this season of Advent prepare to welcome Jesus when he comes ...

The place of celebration

It is important to arrange the place of celebration as attractively as possible before the children arrive.

Prepare a Table of the Word

Cover table with a cloth, the colour of the liturgical season being celebrated. Place a stand or cushion on the table to support the Book of the Word.

If it is safe to do so, a candle, to be lit when the Word is read, may also be placed on the table.

The environment where the children gather should be as comfortable and welcoming as possible and not have the appearance of a classroom. It should be as prayerful and quiet a space as facilities allow.

The Complete Children's Liturgy Book Katie Thompson

A comprehensive, flexible scheme for celebrating the Liturgy of the Word with children. It provides a framework for every Sunday of the Lectionary and the major Feast days, together with a step-by-step guide for the liturgist and a photocopiable children's page for every Sunday.

An essential resource for more than a decade, The Complete Children's Liturgy Book helps children to take a more active part in the celebration of their faith.

Celebrating God's Word

Joan Brown SND

Celebrating God's Word is a user-friendly handbook for children's Liturgy of the Word leaders, with language, full-colour pictures and symbols age-appropriate for children and relevant to their childhood experience. Joan Brown's book will enable children to enjoy a genuine and meaningful celebration of God's Word and will help to prepare them for greater participation and active involvement in the adult life of the Church. Although primarily for the Liturgy of the Word, the Gospel approach can be used with any Gospel passage and with a range of age groups.

Living Hope
Russell Herbert

Living Hope explores the meaning of Christian hope, its theology and psychology. It reflects on the sources of hope and wrestles with the concern for a hope that is not just a set of clichés but which is engaging and realistic, suggesting practical ways of nurturing hope in those we care for. Russell Herbert argues that resurrection is central to Christian hope, drawing on the insights of psychology, nursing science and Jurgen Moltmann's theology of hope.

The book integrates theological reflection with a number of case studies and practical suggestions for clergy and pastoral carers.

Whispers of Love
Jeremy Brooks

A well-chosen reading or piece of music can help transform a funeral service from a formal and impersonal marking of a person's life into a unique and personal tribute to a loved one.

In this anthology, Jeremy Brooks has drawn together a wide array of resources to help craft a funeral as the family would like it.

Drawing on his experience of having conducted over five hundred funerals in his professional ministry, he has put together readings, music and prayers which can be used.

Heaven's Morning Breaks

Jeremy Brooks

Heaven's Morning Breaks examines the changes in funeral practice over the last 20 years before looking at issues such as cremation versus burial, life after death and difficult funeral services – where suicide or the death of a child may be a factor, or where mourners are few. A helpful addition to literature on funerals for those involved in ministry and a comprehensive resource, the book is divided into three parts:

In Your Sorrow

In the sorrow you're enduring,
like an arrow through the heart;
in your loss so deep and dreadful which has torn your life apart;
in the grief and desolation,
more than anyone should bear,
may God nonetheless support you, speaking somehow of his care.

CREATING 'CHURCH' AT HOME

Patrick Coghlan

After many years of involvement in a church fellowship – experiencing the spiritual input, support, encouragement, love and friendships it offers – a huge void must be left in people's lives when that is no longer possible, as a result of difficult or changing circumstances.

With that in mind, Patrick Coghlan has produced ideas and material to enable an act of worship to take place in the home – even for those with no ministerial or leadership experience – and for it to be done in such a way that it becomes deep and meaningful.

Being There

The healing power of presence

With the insight born out of his own deep experience of both therapeutic and spiritual practice, the author explores what it means to be a pastoral companion. He examines the areas of personal choice and responsibility, regrets and disappointments, appropriate boundary setting and supervision.

Michael Forster has applied the tapestry of his life experience to the exploration of what it means to be available for another in a pastoral relationship in a way which enables them to be, and to be the best they can become. His pastoral credibility and passion shine through, offering us a deep wisdom with which to navigate our pastoral relationships. If you are a pastor, or a pastoral carer, or a person who would not label yourself as either but who is deeply concerned to affect the quality of your relationships, to understand what it means to be there for others in a way which liberates them and enables them to flourish, then this book is most worthy of your attention.

Eating Curry for Heaven's Sake!

Creative Christian interfaith engagement

Never was there a more important moment for inter-religious engagement, yet never did it feel more difficult. But with this book in one hand and a freshly cooked chapati in the other, the first steps will seem possible! Divided into six short study chapters and interspersed with recipes, questions, reflections, stories and lots of practical suggestions, Eating Curry for Heaven's Sake is an invaluable resource for Christians of any age, either as individuals or in a group. It encourages honest and open dialogue, challenges us to name our fears, and prompts even the most rural church communities to engage. As Barbara Glasson says, 'There's no such thing as an expert, but no excuse for ignorance!' Suitable for house groups, youth gatherings, student discussions or focused engagement during Lent or Advent, this book will help ordinary Christians to become more confident and resilient. It names what's unpalatable but also relishes the rich diet of multiculturalism. So, let's Eat Curry for Heaven's Sake!

Title: Where is God in Depression?
Author: Patrick Coghlan
Size: A5, paperback with spine
Pages: 128
Product Code: 1501498
Price: £10.99

Where Is God in Depression?

Your journey through depression or anxiety

Where Is God In Depression? is an imaginatively written, easy-to-read book. As well as looking at depression and anxiety and discovering where God is in it all, it includes a variety of off-the-page, user-friendly resources – as well as some creative ideas for drawing closer to God and recording the reader's journey through depression or anxiety.

It is the author's desire to encourage an understanding of Christian teaching related to depression and anxiety, to enable those living with it to recognise God's presence even at the lowest times, and to discover ways of reaching out to God even when it is difficult, and to experience the power of prayer and healing.

Product Code: 1501497
Price: £9.99

Loneliness

A study course in six sessions

Loneliness will affect 40 per cent of the population at some time in their lives.

It is said that loneliness is a modern epidemic that needs treatment, but loneliness is a complex issue.

Paul Cox considers some of these complexities and examines the distinction between loneliness and solitude. His book is designed as a study course of six sessions, with two main parts to each session: Points to consider – information on the topic of the session; and Points to discuss – material for discussion by the study group.

This book could also be used as the background study before setting up a pastoral team to identify and help those who are lonely.

The Christian Handbook of Abuse, Addiction & Difficult Behaviour

Edited by Brendan Geary and Jocelyn Bryan

The Christian Handbook deals with issues of abuse, addiction and difficult behaviour. Of each it asks the questions:

- What is it?
- How should it be dealt with?
- What is a Christian response?

Each subject is treated by an expert using language that is immediately understood by the non-expert reader and every chapter concludes with an insightful list of Dos and Don'ts. There is also a chapter on Caring for Self.

The Christian Handbook is for everyone involved in pastoral, managerial, educational and professional work, including clergy, teachers, youth workers, doctors and other health practitioners.

Written by subject experts, the language used can be immediately understood by the non-expert reader and the books conclude with an insightful list of Dos and Don'ts. Their purpose is to inform and guide those who find themselves having to deal with the fallout from one or all of these serious social issues.

Join Nick in a search for insight into the ups and downs, joys and sorrows, of daily life.

Destined surely to become a modern-day spiritual classic, speaking to people of all faiths and none, this is a book you will want to return to again and again. Drawing on ancient wisdom literature and, specifically, the words of the Teacher, Nick Fawcett invites the reader to join him in a search for insight into the ups and downs, joys and sorrows, of daily life.

At once poetic and profound, The Teacher offers guidance on such diverse themes as love, revenge, relationships, loneliness, justice, wealth, and much more. Here is a timely resource for our troubled world, painting a picture of what life could be, should be, and perhaps, just possibly, one day might be.

A lifetime's irreplaceable prayers

Don't read this book if you know all the answers, have an awesome and perfect prayer life, and spend each and every day knowing exactly what is God's purpose for you and your life.

However, if you're happier with questions, have the kind of prayer life that occasionally needs putting on life support, and find yourself often wondering what's happening tomorrow, never mind next month or year, then why not read on?

From life as a teenager; through college, then out into the wider world of work, marriage and children, this collection of old and new material, written by David Gatward, author of the bestselling Can We Talk, Lord?, spans the past 25 years of his life.

It may not be filled with life-changing insights and earthshattering wisdom, but it is real. And that, when it comes to it, is what God is actually really interested in: wherever you are, and whatever it is that you're doing, your creator wants you to share with him what's on your mind. So, what's stopping you?

Jump Leads and Bump Starts

A year's worth of unusual conversations with God

Here is a collection of reflections based on scripts the author has written and presented for national and local radio stations over the years. They are bite-size meditations on a wide range of subjects, including Love, Lent, Journeys, Hope, Money, Dogs and forgiveness, Christmas preparations.

The book can be used in a pick 'n' mix way, rather like jump leads or bump starts for your conversations with God. The Bible and Subject indexes will help if this is the approach you wish to take. Alternatively, the reflections are in a loose chronological order, as though they were stepping stones through the year.

Most of the main Christian festivals are included, as well as other milestones in a typical year. In addition, each reflection includes a suggested Bible passage and questions to think about.

Houses of Prayer

What they are, where to find them and how to start one

Christianity began in the intimacy of people's everyday homes. Early churches often met in houses but when Christianity became large scale, and linked to empire, many churches ceased to be homely. Now, as Sunday-only churches are in sharp decline and church buildings that lack a sufficient resource base become shells, prayer houses are resurfacing.

Prayer and houses of prayer can take many innovative as well as traditional forms. Ray Simpson highlights examples of houses of prayer in the Bible, the early Church and contemporary life. His book seeks to relate to faith groups who want to base their work in a house, to Christians who would like their home to become a house of prayer but don't know how to go about it, and to those who have never thought about it but may be inspired to have a go.

Author: John Saxbee
Size: A5
Pages: 128 pages, with spine
Product Code: I501512
Price: £11.99

What Happens When We Pray?

Does it make a difference?

Most people pray.

Prayers may be formal or informal, carefully composed or on the spur of the moment. They might be in the form of confessions or thanksgivings, and often they are requests made to God on behalf of ourselves or for others.

But what happens then?

Does prayer change anything – and what do our prayers say about the kind of God we believe in?

Without shying away from philosophical and theological difficulties posed by the practice of prayer, John Saxbee provides an accessible and ultimately reassuring account of how prayer properly understood enlivens and enriches our relationship to God, our neighbour and the world around us.

The Call to Partnership

God working in us, God working through us

In what ways does God call people into partnership? We may feel that we need to be changed before God could possibly use us – but then become aware of God using us in spite of ourselves!

Martin Leckebusch argues that these two experiences belong together, because there is a balance between God working in his people (to produce the character of Christ) and God working through his people (to continue Jesus' work on earth). In fact, God may work in us by working through us, or through us by working in us. The author examines this interplay in 12 Biblical character studies.

Seven Whole Days

Finding God in everyday life

God calls us into a 24-7 relationship with him, in which he is involved in every aspect of our lives, even those parts we might not think of as being remotely spiritual. This book explores how faith and a relationship with God in prayer can impact every day of the week, not just Sundays, and how we might take a sense of God's presence into our everyday routines.

Each section of the book is dedicated to one of the seven days of the week. Incorporated into each section are thumbnail sketches of prayer traditions that Christians around the world have found helpful in their daily discipleship. The authors draw on the spirituality of St Benedict, St Ignatius of Loyola and others, as well as other spiritual practices of vocal, mental and contemplative prayer. This book could be used both by individuals or groups, and there are suggestions for group activities at the end of each section.

A Daily Saying All About God

In this diary you will find one saying per day. These sayings are thought-provoking, rarely if ever said before about God. The first rule in communicating is to presume that the person I am speaking to is a person of good will. In our speaking with God we need to do the same: to presume that the Father of Jesus is a Person of complete good will.

These sayings are about God as my Father; before ever we come to say our Father.

Body Language

Human and divine imagery in the Bible

How do we speak of God who is not physical but spirit?

We follow the Bible and use body language. We speak of God walking in the Garden, of talking with prophets and kings. Such body language speaks powerfully about the way we understand God acting in this world and relating to it.

This book explores how such symbolism appears in the Bible and what it tells us about God. It also examines the way in which some of Jesus' physical features are described in the Gospels to convey the evangelists' understanding of his distinctive actions.

The Helplessness of God

Biblical models of leadership

Many people are uncomfortable with the way in which leadership has been exercised within Christianity, and in this book Nicholas King looks at what the Bible tells us about the exercise of authority. The message is that human beings, with the exception of Jesus, always get it wrong, unless they are prepared to 'lead by listening' or exercise authority as an act of loving service. For the only absolute authority is God.

Why speak of 'the helplessness of God'? Because God is voluntarily dependent on our response, helpless until we make our decision, and will not force us to choose our own good. God's love is never tyrannical, always utterly respectful of human freedom. That must be the way ahead for authority in the Church.

The Prayer of the Faithful

Gerald O'Mahony

Priest and retreat giver, Gerald O'Mahony, has written Sunday prayers for all three years of the Lectionary which are simple and direct, yet with great depth and resonance. It is the presiding priest who begins and ends the prayers; in between are six prayers to be led by a reader from the people. The intercessions may be adapted as required and incorporate short periods of silence at intervals.

Two books are provided – one for the priest, the other for the reader.

The Book of Uncommon Prayer

Liturgies and prayers exploring inclusive language and Biblical imagery of the feminine divine and natural world

'Irrepressible, She is rising from the grassroots. People feel a call to seek her out, if necessary outside, where she has always been. The divine is not to be constrained: truth will out.

My feeling is that She still has a place within the hallowed walls of Christianity, and ignoring or denying the feminine dimension is a loss, a denial of something vital.'

In The Book of Uncommon Prayer, Annie Heppenstall weaves together natural and biblical imagery and the traditions of liturgical prayer, to resource us in relating to creation, God and one another in deep, dynamic and relevant ways – a unique and ground-breaking contribution to contemporary spirituality, for Christians and spiritual seekers alike.

Lindisfarne Liturgies for Christian Festivals

Ray Simpson's liturgical prayers for Christian festivals provide worship for individuals, new monastic groups and churches. They reconnect the post 9/11 world with the seasons and the soil, the saints and the streets, the struggles, senses and silence, as well as the Spirit and the Scriptures.

These inclusive patterns of worship are drawn from early and contemporary Celtic devotion, Anglican, Orthodox, Reformed and Roman Catholic sources.

The Liturgies that appear in this book are taken from Liturgies from Lindisfarne by Ray Simpson.

Easter

- 137 God of glory,
we sing your praises, this special day.
Halleluiah, risen Lord!
Halleluiah, love triumphant!
Halleluiah, Redeemer, Saviour!
May the joy that we feel create a wave of peace and celebration which washes away doubt and fear and brings hope and reconciliation to a broken world and a new beginning for humankind.
Amen
- 138 Father of all,
we give thanks that your promise has been fulfilled,
that your Son has broken through the barrier of death,
for us and for all humankind,
having taken on the burden of our sins:
all have been washed away in the blood of Good Friday and now the transformation is accomplished, through the resurrection of that first Easter morning.

Prayers to our boundless God

Here is a compilation of prayers from five of Annie Heppenstall's previous books. Annie says, 'Each one of my books celebrates the awe of this beautiful world we live in, but also acknowledges that life can be very challenging as we struggle with personal circumstances and questions of faith.'

In this book, you will find prayers

- celebrating the wonder of the natural world
- using inclusive and feminine imagery for God
- reinterpreting traditional Christian prayers, in inclusive language
- of time and season
- in the Celtic tradition
- for tree planting, place blessing and pet funerals
- to honour women's stages of life from menarche to menopause
- seeking a way through loss, illness and anxiety
- seeking peace in difficult relationships, including within church communities
- expressing wonder at divine love ... and much more!

Prayers for Festivals and Major Saints' Days

Icons of Glory is a book of intercessions for the major church festivals throughout the year. It will help those who lead intercessions in church, but is also a means of prayer and meditation within the home, and can be used by individuals or by groups.

Each set of intercessions prays for the Church, the world, the local community and our homes, the sick and those in need, ending with a remembrance of our loved ones departed. The short introduction to each festival will help focus on that event. There is also an opening prayer; readings from the Scriptures, an offering of God's peace and a blessing. The book aims to bring to God the concerns on our hearts throughout the seasons, knowing all are in the heart of God and that he loves the world with an everlasting love. Each festival reveals something about God's love, compassion and saving power. If we spend time at home with these prayers they will enrich our worship within the Church and help us to deepen our understanding of the festivals.

Revelations of Glory

Saints are not set apart as perfect or sinless, for they have the same weaknesses as all humans, but they are who God has called them to be and in being themselves, they reveal God's glory. Saints are people who work in common union with God and he is seen at work in their lives. This book is to introduce you to some of the people who are heroes of the Church and are revelations of God's glory. We share a common union with them, for we have the same Creator and Redeemer and the same Spirit of God: in God we are one with them.

Each celebration of a saint follows the same format: a short introduction to the saint's life, the Scripture readings for the saint's day, which are taken mainly from the Common Worship Lectionary, an opening prayer; intercessions, the peace and a blessing.

Together with its companion volume Icons of Glory, this book will encourage you to explore the common union to which we all belong and to discover God's call to you, which is unique. This is a call to be a fellow worker with God and to reveal his glory in your life.

Positive Prayers for Cities

A resource for worship

A book of prayers that challenges the unspoken assumption that the countryside is God-filled and the city is God-forsaken.

Prayers are divided into 4 main sections based on the liturgical calendar, with a pick-and-mix section at the back featuring prayers for particular groups of people within the urban environment.

I've always admired Barbara Glasson's integrity, honesty and compassion. Weaving together her longstanding commitment to Christian living in the midst of the city with Celtic prayer, nursery rhyme, psalm and litany, reflective and creative, these prayers bring fresh insights and new energy to individual devotion and corporate worship.

Time Together Susan Sayers

In this fine collection there are acts of praise and wonder; thanksgiving and love, springing from ordinary, everyday work and relationships, and the real world we all inhabit. There are expressions of grief and pain, confusion and disappointment, which are just as important to bring to God as the good times and the moments of spiritual uplift. And there are frameworks for intercession which you can use daily as you pray for your church, your community, and the needs of the world.

Prayers for All Seasons

Nick Fawcett

A comprehensive resource for public worship in three sections: The Christian Year, Life and Faith, and Ordinary Sundays. There are 300 prayers for every situation – prayers of petition, praise, thanksgiving, confession and intercession, offertory and communion prayers, prayers of dismissal and blessing – as well as for specific occasions throughout the Church's year and the lives of its people.

Nick Fawcett's great gift is to write prayers which have a down-to-earth and modern feel and at the same time great depth of meaning.

Nick Fawcett

Over 300 prayers for public worship, covering every situation and occasion. Written in contemporary language for the needs and concerns of today, the prayers are in three sections:

- The Christian Year – includes prayers for the principal days of the Christian calendar from Advent to All Saints' Day.
- Life and faith – focuses on life's passage from birth to death, and on the significant events in the life of the Church and the individual believer.
- Ordinary Sundays – offers a range of prayers for use in worship generally, as well as the Lord's Supper in particular.

This second collection, like the first, has grown from Nick Fawcett's own experience and continued learning, and is offered not as a way to pray but simply as a source of ideas and inspiration for leaders of public worship and those who pray with them.

Overturning Tables

Subversive poems for Christian worship

This collection of poems is a set of stepping stones through the calendar year. Many of the poems have already been used to enrich a wide range of acts of worship, and have also been valued as part of personal reflection and prayer times. Each poem is followed by an appropriate Bible verse.

Poems are like parables, written to draw in the listener or reader; to get them thinking in a new way or to trigger a new insight. The title Overturning Tables reflects the author's belief that God is the Great Disturber. Jesus overturned the tables in the temple, upset the political and religious establishments and unleashed his Upside Down, Inside Out Kingdom.

The poems reflect the author's belief that it is easy to forget the things we once held dear; things that gave us a sense of purpose, shaped our values and formed our character. We live life at such a pace these days; reading poetry is a wonderful way of slowing down and reflecting on the more important things in life.

Caring for Your Church Building

James Halsall

The Church of England is responsible for 16,000 parish churches, 12,500 of which are listed. Most of them are cared for by volunteers with no professional training in historic buildings and their conservation.

James Halsall, one of the most experienced professionals supporting church buildings nationally, has written this accessible, comprehensive book which will prove an invaluable aid to getting the balance right between making buildings fit for mission and worship and community use while respecting their heritage.

Not Another ... Meeting!

How to make meetings effective and enjoyable

John Cox

Too often meetings are a pain! People grumble but are not always sure what to do about it. This book sets out some of the problems and how they can be overcome. Effective and enjoyable meetings require careful planning, papers sent out on time, good chairing, clear decisions, participation and commitment from those present, accurate minutes and effective follow-up. All this and much more is here. This book is just what chairpeople and members need. Less pain, fewer grumbles. More enjoyment, more effectiveness.

More than Caring and Sharing

John Cox

Church schools are different, not because they are exclusive but because they are distinctive. But what constitutes this distinctiveness? It is more than a matter of 'caring and sharing'. This timely book seeks to help all concerned with education in church schools to explore this question.

John Cox suggests that even Christian values are not enough – it is the beliefs that underpin these values that make the real difference: belief about God, about what it is to be human, about the Church and about the world. This is worked out in terms of the Kingdom values such as justice, forgiveness, gratitude, generosity, truth and love.

It's Not Your Fault You're Stressed!

John Cox

Do you ever feel it's all got a bit too much? No matter how hard you work, you feel you haven't done enough and it's your fault? Anyone in a position of leadership is likely to have felt like this at some time. If the feelings persist and become worse, pressure can lead to stress, breakdown and burnout, an illness every bit as real as physical illness, only more hidden and more difficult to admit to.

John Cox tackles the subject of stress-related depression in this guide to basic principles about how to stay healthy as a leader and how to offer healthy leadership.

Harmony in Worship

Building supportive relationships between clergy, musicians and congregations

At its very best music can enhance not only the singing but the whole experience of worship – from joyous praise to quiet contemplation.

When all is in harmony, all is well, but relationships play an important part and sometimes are 'off key'. Not only does the book offer suggestions and questions to stimulate those responsible for worship but it also suggests ways to help ensure ministers, organists and worship leaders all sing from the same song sheet. Contents include chapters on hymns, choirs, organists, the changing face of music in church and instruments.

Being a Better PCC

How to be more effective in the life and mission of the local church

An invaluable guide to the working of PCCs and the responsibilities of churchwardens.

The book provides information not only on the history of PCCs but also on the procedures for the election of members, their responsibilities, relevant legislation and suggestions to help PCCs be both effective and fun. There are separate sections covering the role and responsibilities of churchwardens.

The book is of interest and assistance to all PCC members and even experienced churchwardens but will be of special help to those who are newly appointed.

Hard Pews, Boring Sermons and No Loos!

Excuses and reasons why people don't go to church

Fewer people these days are going to church.

Our popular author, John Cox, offers suggestions for why this should be so and where the Church needs to take action. In the first part of his book he looks at the main reasons people give for not going to church – some of them may even be just excuses but should not be ignored by churches.

In the second section he considers the impact of the consumerist society and the scientific revolution upon people's beliefs and behaviour. The book concludes with insights from the incarnation, crucifixion and resurrection that offer ways forward and reminders of what must not be lost.

The Bible

The Bible and The New Testament

Nicholas King

For the first time under one cover, we are delighted to present Nicholas King's complete translation of The Bible.

Nicholas King is the first person for more than half a century to translate The Bible on his own. His translation is from the Greek, complete with grammatical inaccuracies and idiomatic peculiarities. The result is a vibrant translation which is exceptionally stimulating and sometimes startling. Readers will find that it shakes off the dust which often settles on passages that have become tired from overfamiliarity or frequent quotation, allowing the text to come to life in new and unexpected ways. With illuminating introductions to each book and extensive commentary notes throughout, Nicholas King's translation is to be highly recommended.

Spoken Word CDs

Nicholas King reads the Bible

Nicholas King

Nicholas King reads from The Bible – just as Jesus' followers would have heard it: with passion, humour and deep faith, from his own unique translation. Nicholas King's brand-new translation of the Bible has been greeted with jubilation by readers, church leaders and scholars. It has been described as 'amazing', 'dynamite', 'instantly accessible' and 'unique'.

Even those words do not adequately sum up this recording which astonishes with every word, so beautifully spoken and full of meaning. Here the text is presented with all its humour, grammatical inaccuracies and idiomatic peculiarities. But what makes this recording stand above every other is Nicholas King's deep faith and lifelong love and study of the Bible, and his truly stunning voice. No actor, however brilliant, could so interpret the texts. This is the Bible recording par excellence.

Prayers for a New Day

Graham Jeffery

'Prayer must be the most exposed and vulnerable form of writing,' says Graham Jeffery. 'For while poetry evokes the world or the human spirit, prayer has to wrestle with the difficulty of being human.'

In four sections – contemplation of the Gospels, prayers for the Eucharist, prayers for those who face mental suffering and depression, and reflections on being a priest – Graham Jeffery writes from the heights and depths of his own life, revealing in simple but profound language the strength and vulnerability of the human spirit.

Cooking Up Worship

David E Flavell

Christian worship is exciting, innovative and life-changing – or at least that's what it should be. If your church isn't like that, then you need this book. Too often the Church is like a restaurant whose clientele is dwindling because the chef doesn't seem to care what the customer wants. What's on offer is stodgy, dull and unattractive.

David Flavell makes no apology for being controversial in his assessment of the present state of affairs but goes on to provide constructive, well-presented and easily understood guidelines for cooking up services that are attractive and give glory to God. There is no need for a degree in theology, music or cuisine; the requirements are the desire to reach people where they are and at the same time to please God – simple but profound.

Christ Our Peace

Reflective Services for Lent and Holy Week

Stuart Thomas

These reflective services are all fairly short and mostly participative, one for each of the four Sundays in Lent, for Passion Sunday and for Palm Sunday. There is space for silence and quiet reflection, and suggestions for hymns that reflect the quieter, more thoughtful tone of these services. Each service can stand on its own but, equally, the individual elements can be extracted and used in other contexts as appropriate.

Praying the Passion

Ken Taylor

The perfect daily companion for the Lenten season, this little book is a comprehensive narrative of the Passion using details and aspects of all four accounts.

Mark's account is used as a base, and details unique to the other three Gospels are interwoven to produce a 'composite Passion'. This larger, fuller account of the Passion is used as a springboard for meditation and prayer. For each day of Lent, there is one reading from the Passion on the left-hand page and one meditation on the right-hand page.

The book contains three appendices: one of explanatory notes; one that describes a Passover Seder; and one with a suggested use of selections from the material within the congregation during Holy Week.

Working with God

Greg Shepherd

For many of us, it is all too easy to see the only purpose of our day job as providing a house and food for our families. But God wants far more than that. He wants to be involved in everything.

Drawing on the lives of Daniel and Joseph, and the lives of modern-day Christians serving God in the organisations in which he has placed them, Working with God is a practical, biblical guide to being God's servant in our occupations.

As author Greg Shepherd found out himself, God wants our lives to be full of his presence and glory, no matter what we are doing. And it is his hope, that in these pages, you will discover just how powerful an ambassador of God's redeeming love you can be in the workplace, wherever it is.

Plain English Bible

H. J Richards

This collection of selected passages is a mixed bag; but so of course, is the Bible.

The widely varied topics covered in the Plain English Bible range from 'Forbidden fruit' (Genesis); 'A charter for slaves' (Deuteronomy); 'Saved from death' (Psalms); to 'Desperate measure' (Mark); 'Never take no for an answer' (Luke); and 'The new creation' (Revelation).

The pieces translated by H.J. Richards represent a lifetime of studying the Scriptures both as a student and teacher. His writing reflects the diverse emotions and facets of humanity revealed in the Bible, and opens the Scriptures up, making them accessible to all ages.

This Meal We Share

Graham Jeffery

Whenever we gather around the Lord's table, we come as we are to share in things which are greater than ourselves. All good worship depends on achieving a happy balance between these two aspects: being faithful to the tradition of the Church, doing what she has done always and everywhere: but also being faithful to the community that gathers to celebrate. Genuine tradition is a dynamic memory, pushing us forward to celebrate not just our yesterdays, but our todays and all our tomorrows.

Too few though they may be, there are among us today pastoral poets: priests who have the gift of being able to express the Church's undying tradition in the words which they know best suit the assembly gathered in that particular place on that particular day.

This Meal We Share is a collection of such prayers by one such individual, which shows how the words the celebrant speaks can come from the heart, not just from the book. May Graham Jeffery's words, humbly offered, encourage and inspire you as you pray with and in the name of your community.

100 Talks for All-Age Worship

Susan Sayers

The gospel is for every member of the church family, from the youngest to the oldest, and it can be understood by all when it is expressed in terms of everyday experiences to which everyone can relate at their own level. Jesus himself knew this, and that is one of the reasons why he taught in parables. The ideas in this book aim to present the gospel message in a way that will mean something to every member of the congregation.

Successful all-age worship also springs from shared participation in the teaching. These lively, imaginative and practical suggestions encourage movement, speech and action, which are essential if the whole group is to feel involved. Humour plays an important part, but more important still is the greater sense of togetherness which a more open and uninhibited expression of faith and feeling makes possible.

Looking out the Window

David Gatward

There's safety in sitting indoors, not going out, not exploring what lies 'out there'. But that's not what we are called to do. No. If we are to live life to the full – and surely this is the very essence of living the Christian life – then we must venture beyond those walls which give us security.

In this collection of thoughts and prayers, David Gatward, author of the bestselling Can We Talk, Lord?, challenges us all to get involved with life, to get out into the world and to discover our true purpose. And through it all, to cling onto the hand of God, no matter what.

50 Fun-Filled Sundays

If your Sunday School sessions seem part wrestling match, part crowd control, then this is exactly what you need. And before you know it, the children won't be the only ones enjoying themselves; you will be, too.

With a huge and imaginative range of 'thinking' and 'doing' games, quick dramas and mimes to act out, prayer times and even a 'talky bit' for each session, you will never again feel that Sunday morning panic! Instead, as emphasised through the provision of each activity, you will not only be sharing the gospel with some of the most wonderful and exciting people on Earth, you will also be building a trust with them, and from that providing true pastoral support. Praying as Jesus Taught Us

'Stillness and silence run counter to our culture, and many of us therefore find them unnatural and rather threatening or uncomfortable. Yet it is so often in the discipline of stillness that God can engage with our spirits and be known to us.'

These sixteen liturgies all include periods of space with help and encouragement for using stillness as worship. Together they form an extended reflection on the Lord's Prayer; but each service also stands on its own, using one of the sixteen words or phrases from the prayer as a starting point for reflecting on a different aspect of faith.

Each service also includes 'liturgical conversations' through which individuals' thoughts and reflections can be voiced corporately. There are times of intercession and singing, with suggested hymns, and passages of scripture.

Formed by the Desert

Joyce Huggett

The desert is an unforgiving and dangerous place and one few would enter by choice. And yet a recurrent theme in the Bible is that some of the key characters bound up with the history of our faith were shaped by just such a place. And so too, it is, with us.

Drawing upon the stories of the likes of Abraham and Sarah, Moses and Miriam, Elijah, the psalmists, Hosea and his wife, John the Baptist and Jesus himself, Joyce Huggett explores how God worked through them and how their lives can be a true inspiration for our own.

The desert is a place of formation and transition, of revelation, new beginnings, miracles and grace. And in it we can encounter a God who will truly transform us.

We Shall Be Changed

Keith Duke

Lent is more than simply giving something up for a month. It is an opportunity, each year, to encounter Christ in a wholly new way, both individually, and as his church.

Through the series of sessions presented here, you will be invited to: Confront the things which prevent you from truly transforming on a spiritual, emotional and physical level; Expose those situations in your own life that could be considered a desert; Identify and reflect on your own experiences of rebirth; Examine the deserts of your own life and how to find God in that wilderness.

Each session includes a time for worship, silence, and discussion, alongside prayers and liturgies from the Celtic tradition.

The Coming King

Peter Jackson

Advent is not simply about a baby in a manger. No. It is a time of awe and wonderment, a time when we reflect on the return of the King! And The Coming King will help you see it all in a wonderful new light. Imagine, then, the Marriage Guidance for Mary and Joseph when they face their particularly unique set of pre-natal problems. Then there are all those unexpected guests turning up at Jesus' birth in The Surprise Breakfast. Later on, John the Baptist is busy Clearing the Way for Jesus' ministry. But that is only after the childhood, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus have been examined in Reunion, and finally his second coming in Sitting Tenants and The King's Return.

Perfect for performance Sunday by Sunday from Advent to Epiphany, dramas to support specific sermons or talks, or even run in their entirety as a special Advent evening, The Coming King will refresh, inspire and challenge anyone who wants to take a new look at this important time.

Footsteps to Glory

Peter Jackson

Lent and Holy Week are important times of reflection. A well-acted and well-produced piece of drama can make a real difference in helping us all understand with greater depth the events that we focus on at this time.

Bible-based, and drawing on the key messages from this key period in the Christian calendar; these dramas can be performed as stand-alone pieces to support a talk or sermon, used as part of a Lent series, or perhaps as a block of six or seven as a Good Friday presentation.

Written by Peter Jackson, who was assistant editor of the theatre magazine Plays and Players, and who is also the author behind other well-known Kevin Mayhew titles, such as Star and the Stable, Acts of Faith, 25 Christian Drama Sketches, and The Coming King, these sketches will challenge and provoke all who either take part in them, or see them performed.

Advent Fun for All the Family!

Patrick Coghlan

If you're looking for something to do as a family during Advent that has a little more meaning than opening yet another door on the Advent calendar to get at the chocolate behind it, then this is the book for you.

A family-focused Bible study for Advent, each session comprises a Bible study, discussion, prayer and creative activity. Featuring twelve of the key characters in the Nativity story, it explores the first coming of Jesus and how the characters were involved, leading through to the lessons we can learn from them as we look ahead to Jesus' return.

This fun, imaginative and thought-provoking book will enable the whole family to explore the true meaning of Christmas.

By His Wounds

A Lenten Study Course

Tony Castle

Life is full of opportunities and Lent is a season of great opportunity. This Lenten study course offers just that: an opportunity to reappraise the meaning of the sacrifice of Calvary. Over the five weeks of Lent, Tony Castle examines the symbols of the cross and crucifix, the concepts of love, of time and of justice, through narrative, scripture, prayer and discussion.

The sessions are:

- Sign of love
- Wounds of love
- Love is the way
- Now is the kingdom
- The healing wounds of love

The Grace Space

Michael Forster

In the words of Michael Forster himself, 'As churches, we can offer no greater gift to others ... than the experience of truly being heard, valued and given the space to realise our God-given potential.'

The Grace Space is a five-session introductory course to help people and churches build truly effective listening relationships. Each session is in three parts:

- Practical input and exercises
- The 'Three Rs' - Refreshments, Relaxation and Relating
- Bible study, allowing the practical work to shed new light on the biblical material

With with a CD of OHP acetates, and written with an unmatched understanding of people-centred work, Michael Forster's The Grace Space has the potential to change not only the life of the church, but the very lives of the people it is here to serve.

Come To Me ...

A resource for weary Christians and those who care about them

Raymond Tomkinson

From his own experience of chronic fatigue syndrome Raymond Tomkinson demonstrates how weariness, whatever its cause, and the rest it demands can be blessed by God in its own right. He challenges the apparent assumption that strength and busyness are good, weakness and stillness are bad. His aim is to release people from unnecessary burdens of guilt and lack of self-worth. Each chapter examines a different aspect of our perception of strength and weakness and includes follow-up material for reflection, discussion and prayer. The intention is to provide encouragement to all those, sufferers or carers, who need to know that God is at work in our weakness, in our passivity and in our receptivity. Some aspects of our relationship with God can only develop fully if we take advantage of the times when we are 'laid aside' from the bustle and routine of twenty-first century living.

Clothed in Christ

Raymond Tomkinson

In Colossians 3:12, St Paul tells us to put on those garments which suit God's chosen and beloved people: compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience (Colossians 3:12). And yet our own life experiences can dress us somewhat differently.

In this course of six sessions, which include in-depth explorations of the theme, discussion questions, group activities, key words and texts, and prayer suggestions, author Raymond Tomkinson explores the Christian journey from innocence, through sin and redemption, to finally being fully clothed in Christ. By examining how we burden ourselves with sin, hurt, sorrow, grief, and withholding forgiveness, Colin helps us to realise how the redeeming love of Christ can truly change us all.

Forty Days Of Prayer

Richard Garrard

A collection of readings and prayers for every day of Lent to help you pray with interest and imagination, to follow the way of Jesus more closely, and to celebrate his victory over sin and death in his Easter triumph. The book stimulates thought and prayer, offering new insights, new angles of vision and new ways of focusing on God. The readings offer a basis for prayer; pointers for further investigation and starting-points for discussion.

Rediscover Jesus

Peter Edmonds

To look at something from another perspective is often key to understanding it better and with greater depth. It also provides us with an opportunity to learn more about ourselves and to challenge who and what we are.

In Rediscover Jesus, and based on an actual study tour of the Holy Land, Peter Edmonds guides us through the land, the personalities and the language of Luke. An essential resource for groups and individuals wishing to gain a deeper and broader understanding of Luke's Gospel, the suggestions for further reflection and discussion, and the questions and answers at the end of the final chapter, will transform your understanding of the world Luke was from and the true meaning of his words.

Grappling with God

Nick Fawcett

Breathing new life into familiar Old Testament stories, this series of books looks beyond events to explore the people who shaped them.

Themes covering the whole spectrum of human emotion and experience are opened up in the meditation which is the central focus of each chapter. With questions for discussion, suggestions for further thought and a concluding prayer, the books are suitable for personal devotions

Pilgrims Make Progress

Howard Booth

Christian faith is a struggle. Yet it is often through that struggle that we come to truly know God's will for our lives. In Pilgrims Make Progress, Howard Booth's meditations on the relationship of body, mind and spirit, which are illuminated by the Bible translations of Alan Dale and the wisdom of Julian of Norwich, offer simple exercises for effective meditation and reflection on subjects including forgiveness and relationships, living with tension, and silence and stillness.

Responding to the Image of God

Joel Edwards

In this unique Advent study resource, Joel Edwards, former General Director of the Evangelical Alliance UK, provides seven sessions to examine, '... what it means to be alive, to be truly human in community with others.' It is, as Joel Edwards helps us to explore through the seven sessions provided, about being valued and valuing others; it is about Respect.

Aiming to help us restore our relationship with God and with each other, Responding to the Image of God provides a genuinely unique Advent study course, sure to challenge, provoke and to inspire.

Living with God

Norman Renshaw

Inspired by the healing ministry of Jesus, as described in the Gospels, Norman Renshaw provides here an eight-session course on health and healing. Norman's simple directness, and his carefully expressed thoughts on healing and wholeness, will encourage all who seek to allow God to become a reality in their lives. Equally of value for both group and individual study, and with practical suggestions and examples of how to let God shape our behaviour and attitudes in daily living, Living with God is not for those who wish simply to talk about faith, but those who wish to live it.

Together in Prayer, Book 3

Susan Sayers

As Susan Sayers herself expresses, 'A praying church is a living organism, powered by the love of God, and directed by his will.' Intercessions in worship exist to provide a climate for prayer. In Together in Prayer, Susan provides intercessions in accessible, contemporary language that is both deep in faith and concerned with issues affecting us in today's world.

Grouped under biblical themes, with comprehensive topical and biblical indexes, Together in Prayer is a valuable resource for all those who lead prayer.

A to Z of First Lines

Alternative titles are indented and in italics

A crown of piercing thorns
All nations of the world
All the time
An urgent voice is calling
And can we hope
At this day's end
At this table we remember
At your feet

B-b-b Bless this hard city
Be the God of all my Sundays
Be the hands of Jesus
Breathe in me, Lord
Bring to God your new, best songs
Broken image

C

Called by Christ to be disciples
Called to shed light
Christ, here we are!
Christ, my teacher
Come, rest in the love of Jesus
Come with newly-written anthems

Creating God, we bring our songs of praise
Creation sings!
Cry 'Freedom!'

D

Don't be afraid
Draw us together at the close of day

E
Every land in all creation
Extol the God of justice

F
Faithful God
Fearful, uncertain
Feast your mind on what is pure
Finding a way
For beauty which delights our eyes
For I can do all things
For riches of salvation
For those who strive for justice
Forgive us when our deeds ignore
From a manger in a stable
From near and far
From opposite directions
From the heart of God the Father

G
Give me a heart that will honour you Give thanks
God beyond earth's finest treasures
God has called us to a journey
God has promised many things
God is our strength from days of old
God of life, we come in worship
God of love
God of present, God of past
God of the nations
God of the second chance
God's surprise
Good Joseph was a man
Good Lord, deliver us
Good news to the poor
Gracious God, in adoration

H
Hallelu, hallelu, hallelujah
Hallelujah
Hallelujah Chorus
Happy to share
Have we any room for Jesus?
He broke the rules
Hear our prayer for others
Hold tight
How amazing
How did you feel, Lord Jesus

How rich and deep
God's judgements are

I
I lift my eyes to the hills
I live, dependent on Jesus
I stand on a rock
I was lost but now I'm found
I will always sing the praises
If we have never sought
Image of our God and Father
In an age of twisted values
In glad and sad remembrance
In the night, the sound of crying
In the peace of a garden
In vast, ornate cathedrals
Is the church a building?
It's the morning after

J
Jesus came to save us
Jesus, in your life we see you
Jesus meets us at the margins
Jesus of the scars
Jesus shall reign, his power be shown
Jesus, the Holy One
Jesus, we have heard your Spirit

L
Let all creation's wonders
Let justice roll
Let love be our glory
Let love be real
Let the world be changed
Let us all, with grateful minds
Let us rejoice
Light of her life
Listen up
Living God, your word has called us
Living water
Long ago you taught your people
Lord, at a time when our tables are laden
Lord, change our world
Lord, close to you
Lord, give us vision
Lord Jesus, plant a seed of faith
Lord, today your voice is calling Lord, we know that we have failed you
Lord, what a sacrifice I see

Lord, you amaze us
Lord, you have blessed me

M
Mary, blessed teenage mother
Mighty, magnificent God
Mother of Christ, called
from above
Mothers of the world

N
No gift so wonderful
Now as the evening shadows fall
Now, come to the water
Now is the time

O
O Christ, remember them
O Father, on your love we call
O God of hope
O God of thoughts and feelings
O holy, heavenly kingdom
O Lord, how long
O Lord, you've searched me
O Love that searches
all my soul
O West Bank town of Bethlehem
Oh, what a day!
One of us, flesh and blood
Open our eyes to see
Open the door
Our Father (Caribbean)
Our Father in heaven
Out of the darkness of the night

People, look east
Praise to Christ, the Lord incarnate

R

S
Saviour, precious Saviour
Set the sail on your boat
Sing 'Hey!' for the God who is eternally new Sing, my tongue, the glorious struggle
Sing the gospel of salvation
Sound out his praises
Such a host as none can number

T
Teach me, dear Lord
Teach us how to walk
Tell, my tongue, the awesome mystery
That's why we're here
The day will come, that glorious day
The gracious invitation
The greatest love
The heavens proclaim
God's glory
The Lord created family
The Lord reveals his glory
The man of the margins
The only power that cleanses me
The path is stony
The promised time arrives
The Spirit of God
The Tango of our lives
The universe was waiting
There's a long way
There's a time come nearer
Thirsty for the living water
This heavenly love brings life
This side of heaven
Together we proclaim

W
We have a vision
We hear your cry, Lord
We owe our thanks to you,
Lord
We remember you
We saw beauty in the ashes
We will pray for you, sister
We've silenced our prophets
What a gift
What a night to remember
What can we say?
When the day grows cold
When we were little,
hurt and lost
Where love is met with hatred
Where you lead us
Where you're going I will follow
Within the busy rush of life
Wonderful, glorious day!

Y
You are the Bread of Life
You've called us as your Church, Lord

Songs to Shake Us Up

John Campbell has written 200 innovative hymn texts that succeed in stirring and challenging us to address serious issues that affect church and society.

Quirky, distinctive and forthright, his lyrics don't pull any punches. John has quite deliberately chosen well-known, congregation-friendly tunes, lowered to make them easily singable, so that the hymns can be sung immediately, with the focus on the words, not concentrating on learning a new tune.

- The 15 tunes not usually found in a hymn book have all been recorded with their full lyrics on the accompanying CD.
- Also included is a CD-Rom of the complete texts of every hymn in the book for reproduction on service sheets.

John's outstanding lyrics set us free to explore and express our faith and celebrate the love of life in all its fullness that lay at the heart of Jesus' ministry.

The tune the lyrics are sung to is in italics

A body made of many parts	The King of love	Are we blind or can we see?	Unto us a boy is born
A call that ignores the plans you've carefully laid	Air Falalalo	At last! the city comes in sight	Ride on, ride on in majesty
A covenant of gladness	The Church's one foundation	Augustus on his Roman throne	Good Christians, all, rejoice
A donkey brought you into sight	Ride on, ride on in majesty	Bearing all their fears and tensions	Let all mortal flesh keep silence
A gift that is practical, a gift that is fun	'Tis a gift to be simple	Begin, as we listen, to tell	The church is wherever God's
A hidden birth, unnoticed, unseen	The first Nowell	us the gospel	people are praising
A people packed and ready	We plough the fields	Benjamin had a father who cared	The Skye Boat Song
A place of fear, a place of joy	I heard the voice of Jesus say	Boldly, bravely, Peter answered	Fill your hearts with joy and gladness
A rainbow in the sky	Come down, O love divine	Bring your questions,
A shepherd's always with his sheep	God rest you merry, gentlemen	bring your feelings	What a friend we have in Jesus
All across the world there's harvests	Father, hear the prayer we offer	Called by Jesus to live as one body	Give me joy in my heart
Alone, a victim, trapped, he lay	We have a gospel to proclaim	Called by the love of Christ to be	It came upon the midnight clear
An improvised banquet, right there on the shore	Immortal, invisible	Can a man be kind and caring	Men of Harlech

Child of Abraham the wanderer	Jesus, good above all other	If all my world, entire, complete	On Christmas night all Christians sing
Chosen people in the desert	Come, thou fount of every blessing	If carefulness and decent, ordered ways	Lift up your hearts
Christ Jesus did not come to earth	If you believe and I believe	If, in Christ, there's no distinction	What a friend we have in Jesus
Christ, through your gospel, meet us now	And can it be that I should gain	If this is your blessing, then how do you curse?	Immortal, invisible
Christmas isn't over yet	Good King Wenceslas looked out	If we are God's chosen people	Let all mortal flesh keep silence
Come and welcome this King on a donkey	Give me joy in my heart	If we know no dying	In the bleak mid-winter
Comfort in this vale of tears	Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost	If we would share the love we've known	I heard the voice of Jesus say
Day and night, despite the weather	Deck the halls with boughs of holly	In Bethlehem, with Jesus' birth	On Christmas night all Christians sing
Did oppression, year on year	Jesu, lover of my soul	In the cross we find a sign of love	Mine eyes have seen the glory
Did you know the answers?	Glory be to Jesus	Is it enough to serve	Come down, O love divine
Disciples, who on placid seas	Eternal Father, strong to save	It could have been so flashy	The Church's one foundation
Don't just love your family	Onward Christian soldiers	It surely would have been enough	The Lord's my shepherd
Encamped within a borrowed room	Amazing grace	It was God who called Jonah	There's a hole in my bucket
Enemies had fled in panic	Alleluia, sing to Jesus	It's not too late to pass it on	Amazing grace
Even if we're desperate	All things bright and beautiful	Jesus challenged Peter on that fateful night	Glory be to Jesus
Faithful to Jesus, serving him always	Morning has broken	Jesus, friend of social outcasts	What a friend we have in Jesus
Familiar Word, our long-time friend and guide	Lift up your hearts	Jesus loves me here and now	Jesus loves me, this I know
Father sets children free	God is love, his the care	Jesus' mother and his brothers	Comin' through the rye
Fear, failure and dismay	Come down, O love divine	Jesus preached and healed and challenged	Once in royal David's city
Fisherman Peter heard Jesus call	Lil'burler	Jesus was praying	Early one morning
Follow that widow day after day	Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine	Jesus, weeping for the city	Glorious things of thee are spoken
For all the saints of every age and day	For all the saints	Joseph, son of David	Now the green blade rises
For Caribbean folk who left	The King of love	Leaving here, moving on	Going home
Gathered in sadness	Morning has broken	Let us not laugh if our laughing is weary	Brightest and best of the suns
Give, then, to Caesar these	Blow the wind southerly	Let us recall how this God	Brightest and best of the suns
coins that his name is on	Of the Father's love begotten	has walked with us	of the morning
God has joined us in life's struggle	Ding dong! merrily on high	Life has a purpose, just as in Eden	Morning has broken
God has marvellously come	What a friend we have in Jesus	Like a candle in the night	We three kings of Orient are
God in Christ, you've won us freedom	Alleluia, sing to Jesus	Like clambering Zacchaeus	In heavenly love abiding
God of nurture, God of caring	God that madest earth and heaven	Like Lazarus we fail	The God of Abraham praise
God of promise, God of caring	Put peace into each other's hands	Mary still thought that her
God, present in your written word	God rest you merry, gentlemen	Jesus was dead	Carpenter, carpenter, make me a tree
God, speak to us of faithfulness	Let us talents and tongues employ	May the God who rescued slaves from Egypt	Go mango walk
God wants us as his salt and spice	Hark! the herald-angels sing	Never give in, then, dear brothers and sisters	Blow the wind southerly
God, who spoke in the beginning	Love divine, all loves excelling	Night was falling on the trickster	Judge eternal, throned in splendour
God whose voice spoke through the silence	Air Falalala	No crown, no throne, no glory	The Church's one foundation
God's moment is now, my friends	Sing de chorus	No education from the best of schools	Oh, let the power fall on me
Going greener, that's the plan	Good Christians all, rejoice	No one can tell what life will bring	It came upon the midnight clear
Good Christians, all rejoice	Good Christians all, rejoice	Now to him who is able to keep us	Give me joy in my heart
Good Master, though I've waited long	Let us talents and tongues employ	O Spirit, sent to plead our cause	It came upon the midnight clear
Gospel story is rich with life	The Church's one foundation	O timeless and untrammelled Word	Greensleeves
Grant us the wit and wisdom	On Christmas night all Christians sing	Oh, where's he now?	Jingle bells
Great God, we need you bursting in	On Christmas night all Christians sing	Old clay pots, that's you and me	Bobby Shafto
Great praises shout to God on high	Love divine, all loves excelling	On a desert road by Gaza	Mine eyes have seen the glory
Help us live the love of Jesus	Love divine, all loves excelling	On the Damascus road, Paul was determined	Great is thy faithfulness
Here because of you and Stephen	Early one morning	Once priest followed priest	The church is wherever
Here, where your people	Frère Jacques	bringing numberless offerings	God's people are praising
Hostess Martha, work much faster	The King of love	One Sabbath day, our Jesus came to share	For all the saints
How blessed are those who know they're poor	Greensleeves	Ooffy socks, stinky clothes	This old man, he played one
How great the joys of those whose path	Away in a manger	Our God is good and gracious	The Church's one foundation
I'd tried to be decent; I'd tried to show care

Pentecost Spirit, unsettling us all	Lord of all hopefulness	Though the Church is sometimes old and crusty	Go mango walk
Perched high, exposed and ridiculed	If you believe and I believe	Though the Saviour of
Peter spoke, proud and true	God is love, his the care	the world has come	When the roll is called up yonder
Pithy and punchy and playful and personal	The Keel Row	Though we had thought you must provide	Ye banks and braes
Riding gently on a donkey	Mine eyes have seen the glory	Thousands swept away by anger	Alleluia, sing to Jesus
See this mighty revolution	Alleluia, sing to Jesus	Three strangers came to Abraham	On Ilkley Moor baht'at
She came with a token	The Ash Grove	Time to end this savage silence	Love divine, all loves excelling
Should I be angry or should I be sad?	Lord of all hopefulness	Today's a special celebration	Dis long time, gal
Sing with gusto!	Frère Jacques	Two sad friends were
Sisters and brothers, this we all can do	Lift up your hearts	walking side by side	'Non più andrai' from 'The Marriage of Figaro'
Small seeds of hope were started	The Church's one foundation	Unwanted interruption	The Church's one foundation
Some wandering Arameans	The Church's one foundation	Walking to Jerusalem	Marching through Georgia
Sometimes the pain of life seems overwhelming	Great is thy faithfulness	We all too easily assume	Good Christians all, rejoice
Sower sowing, sower sowing	Frère Jacques	We celebrate this special birth	Good Christians all, rejoice
Speak, dear God, through all the strangeness	Glorious things of thee are spoken	We come to you who called	Now thank we all our God
Speak now, great Shepherd, to your sheep	The Lord's my shepherd	We come with thanks for all the ways you find us	Be still, my soul
Spirit fiery, Spirit free	There's a spirit in the air	We have travelled over mountains	Mine eyes have seen the glory
Spirit, lead us to the table	Praise, my soul, the King of heaven	We must not be conformed	Onyame ko kro ko
Spirit of Pentecost	Come down, O love divine	We sometimes just open a packet	My bonnie lies over the ocean
Spirit, speaking every language	Thanks to God, whose word was spoken	We want a God who's barely there	Greensleeves
Sunday, Jesus rode into the town	Ten green bottles	We've looked for a lion with strength
Take this for your journey	The church is wherever God's people are praising	and with bite	How firm a foundation
The calling we share	The right hand of God	Whatever our confusion,	When I survey
The Christ who with us lived and walked	Ride on, ride on majesty	however dark our night	Hail to the Lord's anointed
The emperor of everything	O Christmas tree	Whatever the struggle, whatever the shame	To God be the glory
The Essenes were careful	Molly Malone	When a tragedy confronts us	Fill your hearts with joy and gladness
The feast begun in shadow	O Jesus, I have promised	When disciples tried to stop
The feast was spread for all to see	On Christmas night all Christians sing	children reaching him	When the Spirit of the Lord
The prophet Jeremiah	The Church's one foundation	When Jesus came from heaven to earth	If you believe and I believe
The shepherd from Tekoa came	If you believe and I believe	When our lives are harsh and barren	Father, Lord of all creation
The Spirit comes to bring us freedom	Sitholile Inkululeko	When people are cruel and	The church is wherever
The story of Job tells how pain broke his heart	To God be the glory	words are malicious	God's people are praising
The story that alters all stories	My bonnie lies over the ocean	When we assume that true
The temple in Jerusalem	A stranger once did bless the earth	neighbours are like us	God in his love for us lent us this planet
The worshippers from Nazareth	O little town of Bethlehem	'Who is my neighbour?' asked the man	Faith of our fathers
There will always be a reason	Now, the holly bears a berry	With care and skill you tend and train	As pants the hart
There's no Jew and Gentile	The Keel Row	Wonderful Teacher, Reverend Rabbi	Morning has broken
They came to have her stoned to death	I heard the voice of Jesus say	Word of God encountered	Glory be to Jesus
They were really nothing special	Mine eyes have seen the glory	You breached an immense taboo	Air Falalalo
This care within a callous world	Put peace into each other's hands	You did not ask that thousands die	Ye banks and braes
This world proclaims that might is right	And did those feet	Your love is so great	The church is wherever God's people are praising
Though raw fear had set them running	Father, Lord of all creation	Your promises are coming true	God rest you merry, gentlemen
Though some are tired and some afraid	If you believe and I believe

Abide with me
All things bright and beautiful
Amazing grace, how sweet the sound
As the deer pants
Be still, for the presence
Be thou my vision
Blessed assurance
Come down, O love divine
Dear Lord and Father of mankind
Eternal Father, strong to save
From heav'n you came
Give me joy in my heart
Great is thy faithfulness
Guide me, O thou great Redeemer
He's got the whole world in his hand
Holy, holy, holy! Lord God almighty
How great thou art
I heard the voice of Jesus say
Immortal, invisible, God only wise
It is a thing most wonderful
Jerusalem
Jesu, lover of my soul (Aberystwyth)
Jesu, lover of my soul (Hollingside)
Just as I am, without one plea
Kum ba yah
Lead us, heavenly Father, lead us
Lord of all hopefulness
Lord of the dance
Lord, the light of your love
Love divine, all loves excelling
(Love divine)
Love divine, all loves excelling
(Blaenwern)
Make me a channel of your peace
Nearer, my God, to thee
Now thank we all our God
O God, our help in ages past
O Jesus, I have promised
On a hill far away
O worship the King
Praise, my soul, the King of heaven

Rock of ages
Shine, Jesus, shine
Sing hosanna
The church's one foundation
The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended
The King of love my shepherd is (Dominus regit me)
The King of love my shepherd is (St Columba)
The Lord's my shepherd
The old rugged cross
There is a green hill
The Servant King
Thine be the glory
We plough the fields and scatter
What a friend we have in Jesus
When I survey the wondrous cross

Christmas

Angels from the realms of glory
Away in a manger
Christians, awake!
Ding dong! merrily on high
Good King Wenceslas
Hark, the herald-angels sing
In the bleak mid-winter
It came upon the midnight clear
Little donkey
Mary's boy child
O come, all ye faithful
O come, O come, Emmanuel
O little town of Bethlehem
Once in royal David's city
On Christmas night all Christians sing
See, amid the winter's snow
Silent night
The angel Gabriel from heaven came
The first nowell
Unto us a boy is born
We three kings
While shepherds watched
